Sextuplet Births But All Die

By MARY ELLEN MYRENE

Associated Press Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — A 25-year-old woman who had been taking a fertility drug gave birth to sextuplets Thursday night, but all of the infants died within seven hours.

A spokesman at University Hospital said the infants, five girls and a boy, were born three months premature and weighed less than a pound each.

The mother, Mrs. Martin Danoff, wife of a Manhattan attorney, was reported in good condition. A hospital spokesman said both she and her husband were sad but "philosophical" at the loss of the babies.

The hospital said the infants were born at two-minute intervals, the first at 6:07 p.m. The boy and three of the girls died within two hours, and a fourth girl died about four hours after birth.

The remaining infant, rushed to Bellevue Hospital shortly before midnight for intensive care at a premature infant ward, died at 1:04 a.m. today.

Herbert Kadison, spokesman at University Hospital, said Mrs. Danoff's doctor had expected multiple births, but had anticipated no more than triplets. The Danoffs have a son, who is 3.

He said the fertility drug she had used, known as Clomid, was not regarded as encouraging multiple births.

The Hope Lions Club met for their noon luncheon Monday at the Town and Country.

Program chairman Hubert Thrash introduced Mr. and Mrs. Jim Hart, who sang several selections from the works of Sigmund Ramberg, accompanied by Mrs. Dorcas Peterson. The final number was written by Mr. Hart, who is Music Education minister at the First Baptist Church in Hope.

Tuesday night, June 9, was selected for the Lions Annual Ladies night Banquet, at which time attendance awards, outstanding service, etc. will be presented and new officers will be recognized. Lions Don Freeland and W.L. Tate are co-chairmen and will present the program on the Blind Rehabilitation Center, Little Rock which is supported by Lion Clubs, statewide.

David Moore was the guest of Bobby Joe Lee. David is now living in Hope and is associated with his father, Norman Moore.

Mitchell Warns Guard 'Cool It'

By MARK BROWN
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Atty. Gen. John N. Mitchell, once the Nixon administration's hard-liner on student demonstrations, has warned police and National Guardsmen to "keep their cool" during campus disturbances.

Announcing beefed up investigations into the shooting deaths of eight young people on the Kent State and Jackson State campuses, Mitchell said Thursday:

"One can recognize the provocations which often accompany civil disorders, but trained law enforcement personnel have a responsibility to keep their cool and utilize only such minimum force as is required to protect the safety of the general public, the bystanders and themselves."

Mitchell appointed Asst. Atty. Gen. Jerris Leonard, head of the Justice Department's civil rights division, to personally oversee the investigations.

The federal probes now under way are at Jackson State College in Mississippi, where two black youths were killed in a hail of highway patrol bullets; Kent State University in Ohio, where students were killed when National Guardsmen opened fire, and Augusta, Ga., where six Negro men were fatally shot in the back during a racial disturbance.

Also under investigation is the death of a black teen-age boy in the county jail in Augusta, which sparked the racial disorders in which the men died. Sources at the Justice Department said Mitchell was profoundly disturbed by what he saw and heard on the Jackson State campus during a two-day fact-finding and speech-making trip to Mississippi earlier this week.

Responding to criticism the administration has appeared less concerned about the killing of blacks and students than in prosecuting violent dissenters, Mitchell said probes at the three locations had been given the highest priority and that Leonard will be given "whatever manpower it takes to get the facts."

He also indicated he will brook no nonsense from state or local officials who might interfere.

Mitchell's stand marked an apparent contrast to the public statements of the past that have earned him the nickname "Mr. Law and Order."

Calling for "an end to minority tyranny on the nation's campuses" in a Law Day speech one year ago, Mitchell proclaimed then, "The time has come for an end to patience."

"The time has come," he continued, "for us to demand, in the strongest possible terms, that university officials, local law enforcement agencies and local courts apply the law."

N.Y. Times, in Slowdown, to Suspend

NEW YORK (AP) — The New York Times, beset by a printers' work slowdown, says it will discontinue publication temporarily on Sunday unless an agreement is reached with Typographical Union No. 6.

Publisher Arthur Ochs Sulzberger announced Thursday that without a settlement the newspaper would suspend publication after its Sunday editions are printed Saturday night, and that employees would not be paid beginning with the Sunday morning shift.

The announcement came as printers in the Times composing room continued to conduct on-the-job union meetings, now totaling 19 hours a day. Negotiations between the printers' union and publishers of the city's four major dailies are deadlocked.

The printers have not said publicly what kind of contract they are demanding, but Local 6 President Bertram A. Powers vowed that his men would not accept a contract that did not meet their needs.

"If it means lockout, we'll willingly take it unless we get what we need," Powers said in the composing room 20 minutes after Sulzberger's announcement.

The Times' announced intention to suspend publication was expected to prompt a resumption of negotiations between the printers and representatives of the Times, the Daily News, and the Post and the Long Island Press. Talks broke off May 9 after a 19-hour bargaining session that failed to produce an agreement.

10 Die in Ambush of Israeli Bus

By HAL MCCLURE

Associated Press Writer

TEL AVIV (AP) — Arab guerrillas ambushed a school bus today, killing 10 Israelis, at least five of them children, and wounding 21.

Jerusalem protested to the U.N. Security Council about the attack, which occurred near Israel's border with Lebanon. It did not ask for a meeting.

The Arabs fired bazookas and small arms about 15 feet from the bus as it headed towards a border school.

The wounded children, many of whom lost limbs, were flown to hospitals.

Israeli planes and ground troops raided Egypt's major naval base on the Red Sea during the night.

Aboard the ambushed bus, bloodstained satchels and lunchbags were strewn over the seats.

At least five of the dead were aged 6 to 8. Two teachers and the driver also perished. The driver was thrown 25 feet from the bus.

An Israeli soldier searching the area after the incident stepped on a mine and was wounded.

Two packs of Jordanian cigarettes were found next to four bazooka shells which had not been fired. Footprints indicated eight men were involved.

The bus had picked up 30-35 persons to take to school. "This bus goes by here every day, so they must know about it," said one settler. "Also, five minutes earlier a taxi and a truck drove by and nothing happened."

The Foreign Ministry said the letter to the Security Council stressed "the gravity of this crime perpetrated against innocent school children."

The Israeli raiders hit Port Safage, 250 miles southeast of Suez and 87 miles south of Sharm el Sheikh, the nearest Israeli-held point on the Sinai Peninsula, a spokesman said.

All Israeli forces returned safely, he reported.

The spokesman gave no further details. Six days ago, Israeli warplanes sank an Egyptian destroyer and a missile boat in the Red Sea south of Safage. That attack was retaliation for the sinking of an Israeli fishing trawler by Egyptian missiles, the Israelis said.

The ambush of the bus and the killing or wounding of so many children was certain to touch off a public outcry in Israel for vengeance, and it was considered likely that the Israeli armed forces would retaliate with another major raid into southern Lebanon.

The Lebanese government announced that half an hour after the ambush Israeli artillery opened up on the Lebanese border towns of Bint Jbeil and Yaron near the site, killing one woman, and injuring two women and two children. The Lebanese said their artillery replied, and the duel was continuing three hours later.

A while later, the Lebanese said a third border settlement, Aitaroun, two miles from Bint Jbeil, was under fire and the toll had risen to four dead and more than 40 wounded.

In Amman, the Jordanian capital, the ultra-left Popular Front for the Liberation of Palestine-General Command claimed credit for the ambush on the school bus. It said three rockets hit the bus at close range, destroying it, and that Israeli troops who rushed to pursue the raiders ran into a minefield, suffering more casualties. It said that all the raiders returned safely to their bases.

The General Command is the small group that claimed to have sabotaged the Swissair jetliner that crashed Feb. 21 and then retracted the claim.

Apparently expecting an Israeli air attack, the Lebanese air force sent up Mirage jets over Beirut for protective patrols.

Behind the Scenes With Nixon on Eve of Cambodia Speech

By HARRY F. ROSENTHAL

Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — It is 9:45 on a warm Friday evening and the White House is swaddled in lights. Outside its gates, in restless procession, come the first of the thousands massing in the capital to proclaim dismay about Cambodia, Vietnam and Kent State.

Inside, wearing a blue suit and light television makeup, Richard Nixon waits in the Red Room, preparing to face reporters and a TV audience of 56 million in the 10th formal press conference of his presidency.

It is the events of the week, the welling up of dissent that followed his Cambodian decision, that prompted this news conference. Much has gone into Nixon's preparation for it.

At 10 p.m. Nixon strides into the glittering East Room, appearing tense and apprehensive. He knows that this night, the questions will be tough.

And they are, from the very start.

"Mr. President, have you been surprised by the intensity of the protest of YOUR decision to send troops into Cambodia... Mt. President, do you believe that YOU can open up meaningful communications questions surprise him. Each had been anticipated by his staff and posed in memos the President has been studying for two days.

Nixon is not at his best in small talk with strangers, but he's a pro when it comes to speeches and press conferences. He crams for them like a lawyer about to argue a case before the Supreme Court. The emphasis is on detailed planning.

Nixon chose to make his Cambodian decision known with a televised speech on April 30, and to respond to the criticism in the press conference on May 8.

How he went about it, provides a good insight into the workings of the 37th President.

He began to think about the scope of the Cambodian speech, formulating ideas, on April 22 after meeting with the National Security Council.

"He called for option papers," says an aide. "That weekend he went to Camp David. Henry Kissinger flew there on Saturday with various options." Kissinger is the President's top assistant for security affairs.

On the presidential yacht the next day and later with the NSC, Nixon discussed the Cambodian situation again.

"The decision to execute was made on Tuesday the 28th," the aide says. "He had to make it then to get started on United States support for the South Vietnamese, to get troops deployed."

Once the decision had been reached, Nixon went into seclusion. In the Executive Office Building next door to the White House—in a large room filled with official gifts and various little elephant statues—the President started dictating into a machine, referring occasionally to a list of major points drawn up by Kissinger.

He sat there in a gold-cloth covered chair, feet up on an ottoman, tapping on the arms with his reading glasses, dictating, occasionally wandering across the street to work in the sunny rose garden.

This time, the yellow legal pads he prefers were used only for the changes he'd make as each successive draft was typed by Rose Mary Woods, his personal secretary.

She knows the way he likes to "see" a speech, and carefully puts each important phrase on a separate line.

"It was dictate, look, think, talk," says the aide. "On with this college age generation and how... Mr. President, what do YOU think the students are trying to say?"

Nixon rocks forward slightly. He looks directly at his questioner, hands clasped tightly behind as though he were supporting himself on an invisible rail. His voice sounds husky and has a slight quaver.

The answers are fluent and the sentences parse. None of the Wednesday he went to bed after midnight and got up at 5. He dictated awhile and went back to bed."

Woodcock Is New Leader of UAW

DETROIT (AP) — Leonard Woodcock, 59, was unopposed for election as president of the United Auto Workers at a meeting today of the union's 25-member International Executive Board.

His election to succeed the late Walter P. Reuther was assured Thursday by the withdrawal of the only other contestant, a fellow vice president, Douglas A. Fraser, 53. Woodcock will serve until the UAW's 1972 convention. Fiery-tempered, red-haired Reuther headed the union of 1.6 million members for 24 years before his death in a plane crash May 9.

To mild-mannered, reserved Woodcock falls the tough new contract bargaining later this year with the Big Three of the automotive industry—General Motors, Ford and Chrysler—and also with the agricultural implement industry. Renewal of pacts in the aerospace industry comes up next year.

New car sales and profits of the automakers have been sagging this year, and the companies already have indicated they will take a tough stance in negotiations to supplant three-year contracts expiring next Sept. 14.

Negotiations will open in mid-July. The union demands include a substantial wage increase, earlier retirement at a higher pension, unlimited cost of living increases geared to the government's consumer price index, a year-end bonus and company-paid dental care.

Similar demands are expected to be made on the agricultural implement manufacturers, with whom UAW contracts begin running out in October.

Woodcock is expected to carry forward both economic and social policies enunciated by Reuther, who often remarked: "This union is about people, not just another nickel in the pay envelope."

STITCHIN' TIME

By JOANNE SCHREIBER

Looking for something to add personality to a plain dress? To accent a long leg-line on your new pants suit? To complement a beautiful fabric? Take a trip to your nearest trimming counter—you'll find that trimmings have come of age.

Glitter trims, now selling like crazy, are getting more and more glittery, elegant and expensive. Up to $30 a yard for a two-inch band of glitter isn't unusual for trim from the House of Kahaner—but the trim is made with rhinestones from Austria, pearls from Japan, beads and bugles from Czechoslovakia and sequins from the United States. It is assembled in Haiti or Puerto Rico and stitched to a firm backing of marine net.

"Women are going to be dressing more elegantly," predicts Hy Kahaner, who does the international shopping for the firm. His brother, Sol, tends the store, which looks like the treasury of an old-time fairy-tale king.

The two brothers see elegant trimmings used to add "glamor" to longer skirt lengths, to make pants suits dressy enough for evening and to define newly important waistlines. If there are some women who like less-elegant trimmings, they can dress their designs with colored wooden beads on hemp backings or go soft and romantic with silk appliques.

Despite the fashion impact of glitter trims, plenty of women like a bit of trimming to add punch to everyday clothes and to children's clothes. For them, Franken Trimmings offer a line of polyester trims. These will wash nicely and require no ironing. Some of the new polyester trims are stretchable, for use on cuffs and hemlines.

According to Fred Haberman, president of Franken, kids account for a lot of sales of medium-priced trims. They buy bright peasant braids to sew down the sides of their blue jeans. They buy deep-knotted or beaded fringe to edge shawls or sew to the underarm seams of jackets. They buy crocheted edging for practically everything. They even make belts of trimmings, by sewing a buckle to the end of a length.

Women have often shopped in home furnishings sections for handsome, dramatic trimmings, stitching them to clothing instead of to curtains. Now, the oldest of the trimming companies, Conso, is offering a line of dress trimmings in a budget range, with such modern motifs as multicolored mushrooms, hex signs, Indian designs and crispy pleated nylon ruffles.

Cost-conscious women often use trimmings to give a fresh look to hand-me-downs, to add another couple of inches to a too-short dress or to cover worn or patched areas and, this spring, the trimmings are terrific.

ENGINEER SHORTAGE
JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (AP) — Despite its industrial growth and economic stability, South Africa is short about 1,000 graduate engineers. F.P. Jacobs of Union Steel Corporation told a steel industry symposium that South Africa has fewer engineers in proportion to population than any other industrialized western nation. Jacobs blamed the shortage on industries which do not provide enough support to technical training.

Send your teenage questions to YOUTH ASKED FOR IT, care of Helen Help Us! this newspaper.

SHE DOESN'T FIT THE IMAGE

Dear Helen: Last year I was hired as a receptionist and secretary in a reducing salon. I also got married about the same time and, what with cooking for my husband, I've gained about 30 pounds.

Yesterday I was served an ultimatum: Either lose weight or look for another job. Isn't there a secretaries' union or something I can take this to? —CHUBBY BUT EFFICIENT

Dear C.B.E.: Look at it this way: Would a company which sells hair restorers hire a bald headed man?

Why not take advantage of your salon's weight reducing program? You'll end up happier, and so will your husband! —H.

Dear Helen: If a wife deserts her family for no reason other than to roam freely, is gone a year and sees her child only twice during that time, can she show up from nowhere and demand custody?

While she was living with me, she wasn't a real wife and mother. When she took off I arranged for a relative to help care for our little boy. He's happy and well adjusted, but if he goes with her, no telling what kind of neglect he'll face, as she runs with bad company.

What are my legal rights? —DESERTE DUBAND

Dear Deserter: You need a lawyer, not a columnist. Call the Legal Aid Society in your town. —H.

Dear Helen: In reply to "Pleanty Irked" who thinks people who attend banquets are captive suckers as regards cost of food: Please advise her that if the ticket price is $7.00 you must deduct 15 percent service charge, (tips, etc.) five percent sales tax, a certain amount for guest tickets and gifts such as corsages. Further, if it is an organizational affair, no doubt they made a profit.

As banquet manager of one of our leading restaurants, may I suggest that P.I. should not blame the restaurant, but ask the committee how much it paid per person for the dinner she did not enjoy.

In conclusion have your party here. All meals are excellent and our service superb! —I. of INN.

Dear I.K.: Sorry, I'm not allowed to advertise, but if I'm ever in your area I'll stop by. —H.

Dear Helen: You said that in the past 3466 years there have only been 230 days of peace throughout the world. Assuming that the Christian religion, which has been in existence for nearly 2000 years, is the greatest organized force for peace in the history of mankind—if it has not brought about world peace, what chance do our present day "peace crusaders" have? —HARVEY

Dear Harvey: May I counter with a question from a basic optimist? With present-day nuclear weapons, what chance does the WORLD have if the peace crusaders don't succeed? —H.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Two ranking Pentagon officials say, in congressional testimony released today, that nuclear retaliation is not a reliable deterrent against a Red Chinese attack because there is no way to know how much atomic destruction Peking is willing to accept in return. They supported construction of the Nixon administration's Safeguard anti-missile system.

DETROIT (AP) — Leonard Woodcock, United Auto Workers vice president, was unopposed for election as president of the UAW as the Union's 25-member executive committee met today. The new president will succeed Walter P. Reuther, killed recently in a plane crash.

Television and Radio

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — Television's top status symbol is starring in a show identified by the star's name—"The Lawrence Walk Show" or "The Jackie Gleason Show."

There is a special kind of status in achieving one's own TV special. On Thursday night, CBS gave the Fifth Dimension its hour.

The Fifth Dimension is an exciting quintet of singers. But a singing group—no matter how talented or attractive—presents problems that are not encountered when there is just one person, one personality to build a show around. It's hardest when there are five people who function best as a single, singing unit.

The Fifth Dimension's extraordinary talents seem to consist of looking amiable and obviously trying to cooperate. They were surrounded by such dependable and proven talents as Flip Wilson, Glenn Campbell and Arte Johnson. For novelty and the benefit of the young crowd, they were all placed in settings and costumes ablaze with the psychedelic color and poster-like drawings of Peter Max.

It was all a bit much. The 60 minutes had the spirit and feeling of a cross between "The Wizard of Oz" and a class B nightmare, interspersed with kooky comedy and—best—a lot of singing.

It probably was not much fun for viewers watching the show on black-and-white sets, for color was a vital ingredient. Take away the color, and what was left was just another variety hour that didn't work very well.

Weekend TV treats include another in NBC's series of children's specials, "Wilderness Road," a nature study at noon EDT Saturday. On Sunday, there is CBS's final "Young People's Concert" of the season, 4:30-5:30 p.m., with Leonard Bernstein conducting the New York Philharmonic Orchestra.

Nagel Gets Hearing at Iowa

IOWA CITY, Iowa (AP) — Ray Nagel, ousted University of Iowa football coach, said Thursday he has been granted an appearance next Tuesday before the university's Board in Control of Athletics to argue for reconsideration of the board's action in firing him Tuesday.

"I can do nothing more except to wait for that meeting," Nagel said. "I feel some people have been misled in this whole affair, and that they may be big enough to change their minds when they hear all the facts."

Nagel was relieved of his duties Tuesday at the same meeting during which the athletic board voted to accept the resignation of Athletic Director Forest Evashevski, both effective June 30.

The actions culminated a four-month feud between the two men which reportedly grew out of Evashevski's dissatisfaction with Nagel's conduct of the Iowa football program.

Several concerned groups, including the Hawkeye football squad, have asked the board to reconsider its action in firing Nagel.

Another group which asked reconsideration of Nagel's firing was the Iowa Football Coaches Association, a group of high school coaches from across the state.

In a related development, Hawkeye coaches said some present and future players were having second thoughts about coming or returning to Iowa in the fall.

Evashevski held a news conference Thursday and told reporters he resigned because he didn't want to continue in the job. He also reiterated his recommendation that Chalmers

Allen Homers Against Old Team, Phils

By TOM SALADINO

Associated Press Sports Writer
Richie Allen's homecoming was greeted loudly by a mixed reaction in the city of brotherly love while in the serenity of Houston's Astrodome, Jim McGlothlin concentrated on quieting the bats of the Astros.

Allen, making his St. Louis Cardinals debut at Connie Mack Stadium in Philadelphia Thursday night since being traded by the Phils last fall, was welcomed by a chorus of boos mingled with cheers.

Then in the ninth inning he slammed a two-run homer and received a fine ovation but the Phils managed a ninth inning run to nip the Cards 4-3.

McGlothlin, the right-hander obtained by Cincinnati over the winter from the California Angels, registered his second consecutive shutout, a two-hit blanking of Houston in the Reds 3-0 triumph.

In the only other National League contests, Montreal edged Pittsburgh 7-6 and Los Angeles stopped Atlanta 6-3.

In American League play, New York blanked Washington 2-0, Cleveland pounded Boston 10-7 and Detroit and Baltimore split a two-night tangle, the Tigers winning the opener 6-4 and the Orioles the nightcap, 3-1.

Banners welcoming Allen, familiar with the so-called "boo birds," who flocked to see him play when he was with the Phils, hung from the upper deck with inscriptions such as: "Allen MVP," "Albright College Loves Richie" and "Show them what you can do, Richie."

As for the booring from the 11,869 fans, Allen said he didn't mind it. "I'm used to that," his home run didn't especially please him either. "I've done it before," he said. "The main thing is winning."

Allen's two-run belt—his 14th of the season—came off starter Woodie Fryman and pinch hitter Joe Hagge's single tied the score. Tony Taylor won it for the Phils with his ninth inning run-scoring single.

Cards' starter Steve Carlton, who struck out 16 before leaving in the ninth, for a pinch hitter, struck for three runs in the fifth, two on Don Money's two-run homer.

McGlothlin, 5-3, who had blanked Atlanta last Saturday, was nicked for an infield single by Joe Morgan in the first inning and a fourth inning liner to right by Jesus Alou. He only walked two and didn't strike out any Astros.

He was also helped by a pair of double plays and didn't permit a Houston runner past first. All the support he needed came when Johnny Bench stroked a solo homer in the fourth, his 13th of the year.

"I'm concentrating more this year and I think that has helped me," said the 26-year-old who was 8-16 with the Angels last year after a 12-8 season in 1968.

McGlothlin will try to match his 1967 feat of three straight shutouts in his next start. In that season, McGlothlin blanked Washington, Baltimore and Chicago.

Coco Laboy's bases-loaded single with one out in the ninth helped give Bill Dillman his first victory as an Expo.

"It was a big day for Bill," said Gene Mauch, Expos manager. "His wife had a baby and he got his first National League victory. He came on in the ninth and threw the ball over the plate. He didn't mess around."

Dillman retired the Pirates in order in the top of the inning after the Pirates had drilled 16 hits off four earlier Montreal pitchers.

Bill Mazeroski drove in three runs for Pittsburgh with a two-run double and a homer while Rusty Staub keyed a five-run Expos fifth with a bases full triple.

Willie Crawford keyed a six-run eighth-inning Dodgers uprising and Los Angeles stopped the Braves despite a pair of homers by Orlando Cepeda.

Cepeda had cracked a solo shot and another with a runner on to put the Braves ahead 3-0 before the Dodgers got to Joe Niekro, who had limited Los Angeles to two-hits over the first seven innings.

Blancas and Weiskopf Tie at Atlanta

By ED SHEARER

Associated Press Sports Writer
ATLANTA (AP) — Homero Blancas, who scored his first PGA victory in four years last week, forged into a share of the opening round lead with a seven-under-par 65 Thursday in the $125,000 Atlanta Golf Classic and said, "I'll take three more just like it."

Blancas, who said "the adrenaline is still flowing" from his triumph in the Colonial National Invitation, shared the lead with tall Tom Weiskopf as the field of 144 ripped apart the 7,053-yard Atlanta Country Club course.

Fifty-six players carried below par scores into today's second round, hoping to make the cut for the final 36 holes Saturday and Sunday. Another 17 players shot par 72.

Blancas, the happy Mexican-American, said, "I've got the momentum going."

Gibby Gilbert, a virtual unknown until his triumph at Houston two weeks ago, also had momentum going his way, shooting a 66.

"I'm playing better now than I did in Houston," Gilbert said. "Winning in Houston gave me confidence. I'm not afraid of the course anymore."

Blancas said he "putted extremely well but missed a few I misread. If I had gotten some of my makeable putts, I could have been two or three shots better."

Meanwhile, Weiskopf said, "That's the best putting round I ever had in my life. Everything I made today went right in the middle of the hole." He missed the green on the sixth and 12th holes, but had only 27 putts as he fashioned nine birdies and two bogeys.

Blancas had no bogeys in his round, slapping in birdie putts of eight feet or less on three holes on the front nine and then adding a pair of 25-foot birdie putts on the back side to go with two other birdies of shorter distance.

Gilbert eagled the 534-yard 11th to go five-under, but missed a three-footer on No. 12 that could have given him a share of the lead.

His birdie on the 18th green left him one shot behind the leaders and one ahead of defending champion Bert Yancey and Chuck Courtney.

Bunched at 68 were South Africa's Gary Player, Tommy Aaron, Frank Beard, John Miller, Kel Nagle, Bob Rosburg, Bob Stanton and Jim Ferrell.

A group of 11 was deadlocked at 69, including Bob Lunn, Jack Nicklaus, Arnold Palmer and Doug Sanders.

Among those at 70 were southpaw Bob Charles, a former Atlanta champion; Bruce Crampton and Bobby Nichols.

One Reserve Clause Fault: Keeps Player Always on the Move

By MIKE RATHET

Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — Jim Brosnan came home from work at the ball park one day in 1954 to find his wife rather upset.

She said it was because of the sleeks. Brosnan now knows it was because of the reserve clause.

Brosnan, owned by the Chicago Cubs organization, would travel up and down the minor league ladder five times during the 1954 season, the reserve system permitting the parent club to transfer his contract whenever and wherever they decided.

When he came home this particular day there was a notice to pack up and move on.

"My wife threatened to divorce me," the pitcher-author explained in court Tuesday as he testified in the Curt Flood suit against baseball. "She had just bought two weeks of steaks to put in the freezer. She wanted to know what to do with the steaks."

And, asked counsel, just to complete the record, could Brosnan say what she finally did with the steaks.

"She gave them," replied Brosnan, "to the player who reported in my place."

Story of a Hard-Luck Race Horse

YONKERS, N.Y. (AP) — Two weeks ago, Good Chase, a 6-year-old New Zealand-bred, was favored to win the $50,000 Martin Tannanbaum International Pace in the first leg of the $150,000 International Pacing Series at Yonkers Raceway.

What happened? He finished third to Fulla Napoleon and Run Customer.

One week ago Good Chase again was favored in the second leg, the $50,000 Good Time Pace. This time he finished second to Run Customer with Fulla Napoleon third.

Tonight Good Chase gets his last chance to salvage some glory in the final leg of the series, the $50,000 National Championship Pace. Once again he is the morning line favorite, at 8-5, with Del Insko handling the reins.

Why is Good Chase favored in view of his defeats? The track handicapper says it is because Good Chase drew the No. 2 post and because the race is at one mile compared to 1 1/4 miles for the International and 1 1/4 miles for the Good Time.

In any event, it won't be easy for Insko because Billy Haughton, driving Run Customer, and Dick Thomas, driving Fulla Napoleon, figure they can win, too. Racing luck probably will decide.

Fulla Napoleon drew the No. 1 post along the rail and is the 3-1 second choice. Run Customer is the 7-2 third choice principally because he leaves from the outside No. 7 post.

Apathy Is Problem of U. of A. BB

By HARRY KING

Associated Press Writer
FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP) — Lack of a "big man" is not the problem in the University of Arkansas basketball program.

"If I had a 6-foot-10 center he couldn't do me any good if the apathy in the program were still here," said Coach Lanny Van Eman, hired recently to build Arkansas' basketball program.

Simply put, Van Eman must convince the players and the fans that Arkansas' basketball team can win.

"I'm just trying to get the program on a sound foundation," said Van Eman who was hired away from the University of Iowa. "I'm trying to eliminate the apathy. This is not going to come from within."

Van Eman has signed three recruits—all from out-of-state—and is considering three or four others, including two junior college performers.

Van Eman says the fact he has not signed a high school senior from Arkansas is not a slur on basketball in the state.

"The primary reason is that we worked with a policy for the past nine years of not recruiting a player we have not seen play," he said. "There's a 50-50 chance when you recruit a player that he'll live up to your expectations."

"When you see a kid play in person you have a better idea of how he's going to react emotionally, how he's going to perform when he's behind and how he's going to do when he's ahead," Van Eman said. "Even in pre-game activities, you can learn a lot about how serious a boy is. This is not going to show up on the film."

"I hope this is not a trend, yet I can see no way to avoid it this year," he said. "It's just a logistical thing."

He also said some Arkansas players had been ruled out because of poor grades.

"I know this, it would be very foolish to try to bring in two or three boys and then lose them in a year or two," he said.

Van Eman said he would begin looking at this year's crop of high school sophomores and juniors within the next two weeks.

"Some of the academic risks haven't been counseled properly," he said. "If we see a player as a sophomore or junior then we can let the coach and the boy know what he will have to do. It doesn't do us any good to find a boy who is a senior and who ranks in the lower fifth or sixth of his class."

Van Eman looks first for players with quickness and aggressiveness.

"We won a conference championship at Iowa two years ago with a 6-5 center and two 6-3 forwards and the Big Ten is a pretty tough league," he said. "I have played against teams that probably lost because they were bigger or slower. I'm not worried as much about tall men as I am the players being in top physical condition."

He does not believe that the emphasis on football at Arkansas will be a detriment to the basketball program.

"I think football can do more for me than basketball can do for football," he said. "I'm going to use football as a springboard. The fact that the football team has been on national television and in the homes of millions of people can't hurt me."

Top Golfers Do Help the Young Ones

By BOB GREEN
Associated Press Golf Writer
ATLANTA (AP) — There's an adage in the military service that goes something like this: "I've got mine, buddy, how are you doing?"

In some respects, that seems to be the attitude between the "haves" and the "have-nots" on the pro golf tour. Or, more specifically, that's the attitude attributed to the "haves" by the "have-nots."

But it's not completely true. Not in every case.

Take Billy Casper, for example, one of the three million dollar winners on the pro tour. He's going out of his way to help young players, give them tips, help them with their game.

"Let's face it," he said, "we can't go on forever. The young players are the future of the game. I think we should do what we can to help them."

But many of the younger players, the ones who face the Monday qualifying rounds, feel they are being frozen out by the established stars of the game, feel they don't have a full chance at proving themselves on the lucrative, highly successful pro golf tour.

They have various points of contention. One of their major complaints concerns a proposal to establish a series of invitational-satellite tournaments with the qualifiers slanted to $35,000 events while the established players are competing in $100,000-up tournaments.

Another major bone of contention is the lifetime exemptions enjoyed by all former U.S. Open and PGA champions.

"Some of these old guys get out there and claim a spot and they've got no more chance of making the cut than I have of flying," one player said.

Many players feel that there should be a time limit on the exemptions, five or 10 years. Still others suggest that the exemptions should extend only so long as the player remains active, playing in a certain number of events every year.

Two of the more interesting suggestions for changes to ease that situation have been made by Jack McGowan and Fred Marti.

McGowan envisioned a two-tour set-up split into leagues, while Marti suggested a new system of exemptions, but a much more stringent system.

"I don't think it's right that all open and PGA champions have lifetime passes," he said. "But I don't think it's right for a truly great player ever to have to qualify."

"The thing is, what's a great player? Arnold Palmer and Ben Hogan and Jack Nicklaus. Sure. But take some of your PGA champs. Dave Marr is a great player?"

Marti suggested a system of exemptions that includes some of the current standards, including the top money winners from the year before and the cut from the previous tournament.

But for lifetime exemptions, he would extend them only to (1) the top 10 players on the all-time money list and (2) players who have won 50 or more PGA co-sponsored tournaments.

"If a player is really great enough to deserve an exemption, he'll get it one way or the other," he said.

Citizens in Win Over Merchants

By BILL MOORE
Star Sports Writer

Thursday night in the first of two games at Legion Field, the Citizens team defeated Merchants by a score of 8-5 winning their first game.

Two walks and a couple of singles by Danny Joyce and Ricky White produced 3 runs that held up until the 5th inning. Then James Stagers led off the inning with a single followed by 2 doubles and 3 singles for 5 big runs.

Jim Rhodes was the winning pitcher while James Robinson took the loss for the Merchants.

In the second game, the Jay-others, Hogan and (Sam) Snead qualify under the 50 tournaments rule. So does Palmer. And Casper and (Gary) Player and Nicklaus on the money list."

McGowan suggested a league arrangement.

"Split the players in two groups," he said, "on the basis of money. Like the No. 1, 3, 5, 7 money winners in one group and the 2, 4, 6 and 8 in the other group."

"Make the field 100 for every tournament with no qualifying. That gives you 200 players."

"Have one group play every other week. Then at the end of the year you could have a world series between the top four or six or eight or 16 in each group."

"Let the bottom 10 or 20 in each group drop off with new players taking their place, on the basis of a qualifying tournament. If a player who dropped off can make it the next year, fine."

Neither system is at all likely to be adopted, but both are indicative of tour players' thinking.

Their principal complaints are the lifetime exemptions enjoyed by national champions and the proposed invitational-satellite system.

"Somebody's going to complain no matter what system you have," said veteran Lionel Hebert.

"I've been out here off and on for about 20 years," he said. "I've seen these guys stand up in meetings and complain for years. And, you know, it's always the guys who aren't shooting good who are complaining."

"The good players don't complain. And the ones who complain aren't going to be around that long."

Nelson Signs With the Vikings

RUSSELLVILLE, Ark. (AP) — Bill Nelson, Arkansas Tech's All-AIC fullback, has signed as a free agent with the Minnesota Vikings of the National Football League.

Nelson, a 210-pounder with 9.8 speed, obtained an undisclosed bonus for signing. He will report July 23 to the Vikings training camp.

Travelers, Rain-Idled, Fall Back

SHREVEPORT, La. (AP) — The Arkansas Travelers, idled by rain, dropped one-half game to Memphis in the battle for the lead in the Eastern Division of the Texas League.

Second baseman Terry DeWald scored two runs and right-hander Charlie Williams scattered eight hits as Memphis edged San Antonio 2-0 at San Antonio Thursday night.

The victory left Memphis with a one game lead over Arkansas, which is a half game ahead of San Antonio. Shreveport is last in the four-team division, three games behind Memphis.

In other league action Thursday night, pinch-hitter Steve Yeager drilled a grand slam homer in the bottom of the ninth inning to give Albuquerque an 8-5 victory over Dallas-Fort Worth and Amarillo buried El Paso 10-3.

Bobby Orr Hockey's Big Money Man

MONTREAL (AP) — Bobby Orr, the Boston Bruins' 22-year-old defense star, has swept just about every award available to him this season.

But he has attained another mark today. This one is a whopping $17,750 — a record for post-season earnings for a National Hockey League player.

Orr, along with rookie goaltender Tony Esposito of the Chicago Black Hawks, was a unanimous choice by National Hockey League Writers' Association members in the 12 league cities for first-team All-Star honors.

Selection to the first team carries a $2,000 prize while members of the second team are awarded $1,000 by the NHL.

However, when East showed out on the second trump. South would abandon this play, draw trumps and finally fall back on the club finesse.

Our hero knew about dummy reversals but he did not know about 4-1 trump breaks. He ruffed a spade at trick two, entered dummy with a diamond to ruff another spade and eventually had to let West make a little trump.

Q—The bidding has been:

West North East South

1 3 Pass 2 N.T.

Pass 5 Pass ?

You, South, hold:

AK54 K842 KJ97

What do you do now?

A—Bid six clubs. We would not criticize a pass but we definitely would not try a five-heart cue bid. This bid might warn your opponent about a heart lead.

TODAY'S QUESTION

Instead of bidding three spades your partner has bid two diamonds over your two clubs. What do you do now?

Answer Tomorrow

Our salvation and our only salvation, lies in controlling the arm of Western science by the mind of a Western philosophy guided by the eternal truths of God—Charles A. Lindbergh.

FOR LEASE at HILLCREST AND IMPERIAL—1 and 2 bedroom apartments. Central air conditioning. Utilities paid. Some furnished, $100 up 777-3363, or 777-6731. Also, fully equipped EFFICIENCY apartments available by the week.

STRENGTHEN YOUR FAITH

Through Regular Church Worship

HAVE
GOD
TRUST
HIM

That means everybody.
That means you. But to STOP, in this world of turmoil and toil, is almost a lost art. We've got to STOP, LOOK, and LISTEN for God. It is that time of day. We must realize we are eternal children of God, on the swift way to destiny.
Just as there must be "rests" in music, to give it phrasing and color, so must man "pause" with God, to refresh his soul.
There are warnings aplenty on the road of life. It would be very wise to STOP for His counsel; LOOK for His direction; LISTEN to His pleading.
His church steeple is a compelling force in every community. It invites you to invest your life in her program of service.

11 Walks, But No Runs for Senators

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer
If when he went to bed Thursday night, Ralph Houk dreamt about Washington baserunners, it was entirely understandable. Houk, manager of the New York Yankees, watched the ace of his staff, Mel Stottlemyre, allow six hits and walk 11 other Senators—not the very best way for a manager to spend his evening.

But when it was all over, none of those many Washington runners had crossed home plate and the Yankees had a satisfyingly bizarre 2-0 victory over the Senators.

In the only other American League games played Thursday night, Cleveland ripped Boston 10-7 and Detroit split a doubleheader with Baltimore, winning the first game 6-4 before dropping the nightcap 3-1.

In the National League, Montreal nipped Pittsburgh 7-6, Philadelphia edged St. Louis 4-3, Cincinnati blanked Houston 3-0 and Los Angeles defeated Atlanta 6-3.

Houk's patience with the Senator threats ran out in the ninth inning when Washington loaded the bases on a single and two more walks. Lanky Steve Hamilton relieved and with no more room on the basepaths, he struck out Mike Epstein and Bernie Allen to end the game.

The Senators stranded 14 base runners in all and if Houk had bad dreams, how do you think Washington Manager Ted Williams took it? "There is no excuse," said Williams, "for leaving 14 men on base."

The Yanks managed just three hits but one of them was Danny Cater's two-run homer in the fifth inning, accounting for both runs.

Cleveland and Boston belted each other around but the Indians had more of the long-distance shots and wound up on top.

Ray Fosse's grand slam home run touched off an eight-run Cleveland explosion in the fifth inning that built a 10-1 lead for the Indians. Gralg Nettles and Rich Rollins also homered for Cleveland.

But the Red Sox roared right back on a five-run inning of their own with George Scott contributing a two-run homer. Dick Ellsworth finally retired the side and then held the Red Sox off the rest of the way to save the victory for Bob Miller.

Detroit busted out of a seventh inning tie in the first game against Baltimore, rushing five runs across—the last two on Don Wert's homer. Then the Tigers staved off a ninth-inning Oriole rally with John Hiller coming out of the bullpen to earn the save.

Hiller wasn't as good in the nightcap. Summoned from the bullpen in the eighth inning to protect a 1-0 edge, he surrendered a run on two singles, a walk and Boog Powell's sacrifice fly. Then, in the ninth, Merv Rettenmund's second homer of the night—a two-run shot—gave the Orioles the victory. Rettenmund connected after Dave Johnson had opened the inning with a single.

Split Looms Between U.S. and Canada

By JOHN BEST
Canadian Press Writer
OTTAWA (AP) — As Canada's foreign secretary, Lester B. Pearson said in 1951: "The days of relatively easy and automatic political relations with our neighbor are, I think, over." The statement drew widespread comment, including some criticism, on both sides of the border. Today the same opinion likely would bring a what-else-is-new reaction.

In recent years, as Pearson forecast, the complexities of the relationship have spawned many issues between Canada and its neighbor. The issues range from the area of defense to Canada's proposal to curb Arctic pollution. Washington opposes the bill, now before Parliament, which would extend Canadian jurisdiction 100 miles seaward from the Arctic coast for the purpose of pollution control.

One ingredient in new, more hard-nosed regime of relations between the two countries has been what some call a rising tide of nationalism in Canada. Another is the present time of troubles that the United States is going through, domestically and in Southeast Asia. J.J. Greene, Canada's minister of energy, lumps the two ingredients together in a cause and effect relationship.

"Part of the cause for the rise of that new Canadian nationalism and determination to build something unique rests in the

Vietnamese Should Stay in Cambodia

—Laird

By GEORGE ESPER
Associated Press Writer

SAIGON (AP) — The South Vietnamese military command said today that its forces will stay in Cambodia "as long as necessary" to destroy Vietnamese Communist forces and their sanctuaries and remove their threat to South Vietnam.

The announcement came in response to a question whether South Vietnamese troops would pull out of Cambodia by June 30, the deadline set by President Nixon for American troops to pull back to South Vietnam.

A spokesman for the South Vietnamese command recalled earlier statements by President Nguyen Van Thieu and Vice President Nguyen Cao Ky that South Vietnamese troops would stay in Cambodia as long as necessary to complete their mission and that they had the ability to stay there alone.

The spokesman did not indicate whether this mission includes aiding the Cambodian government in its fight against the North Vietnamese and Viet Cong. But Ky said during a visit May 12 to Neak Luong, Cambodia: "The future depends on a common plan with the Cambodians. If they really need our help we will stay here. We will stay until they feel they have the strength to fight the Viet Cong and the North Vietnamese by themselves. Only then will we go."

The announcement today clashed with predictions of some White House officials last weekend that South Vietnamese troops would withdraw from Cambodia around June 30. But debate was continuing within the Nixon administration over whether the Saigon regime should be pressured to pull back.

Ambassador Ellsworth Bunker met for 80 minutes today with President Thieu. Spokesmen would not say what was discussed, but The New York Times reported from Washington that the Nixon administration had instructed Bunker and Gen. Creighton W. Abrams, commander of U.S. forces in Vietnam, to work out a joint policy of troop withdrawal with Thieu's government.

The South Vietnamese military command also disclosed that it now has 40,000 regular troops operating in Cambodia, the largest number it has acknowledged. They include elements from eight of South Vietnam's 12 regular infantry divisions.

The spokesman also reported that the Saigon regime should be pressured to pull back.

It was 1870: Women Startled Business Taking Office Jobs

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP) — This year marks the 100th anniversary of the formal debut of one of the heroines of history—the American female secretary.

So let's salute the little lady, once known as "Miss Typewriter," then "Tillie the Toller," and now the "Girl Friday."

Can you imagine a world without women? Well, that was virtually what the U.S. business office was like back in 1870, when eight young ladies specially trained by the YWCA here marched on the scene.

Male office workers, who wore celluloid cuff protectors and wrote with quill pens, nearly fell off their high stools laughing at these determined girls, prim in long black skirts, high-button shoes and mutton-sleeve white blouses.

But their laughter soon died. The girls proved remarkably efficient at the big, clumsy typewriters of that day.

By the end of the Gay Nineties only 22 per cent of secretarial jobs were still in male hands," said Robert Murray, an executive with The Edison Voicewriter firm. "And today, of course, an overwhelming majority of the nation's 2½ million or more of the nation's secretaries and stenographers are women."

New Engine Is Heart Transplant for Car in Indianapolis 500

By HUBERT MIZELL
Associated Press Sports Writer

CHARLOTTE, N. C. (AP) — Cotton Owens is a grease surgeon. When he hoists an engine out of Buddy Baker's shovel-nosed Dodge it's the mechanic's equivalent to a heart transplant.

"Our peak horsepower comes at 7,200 revolutions a minute," said Owens in his workshop tongue. "We've got to push over 200 miles an hour on the long straightaways and still be durable enough to last 500 or 600 miles."

Owens is a mite of a man. At 46, his hair is as yellow as oleo and there's a wrinkle in his tanned face for every wreck, every blown engine and for the times a 30-cent part has ruined his machine in a $100,000 race.

"If a car is set up right in the shop, most any good driver can win with it," said the Spartanburg, S. C., chief of Baker's stock car team. "If the car is set up poorly, the finest driver hasn't got a chance."

Owens is busy preparing the 426-cubic inch Dodge Daytona for the $193,080 World 600, to be run Sunday on Baker's favorite track. Not only does the husky 6-foot-5 Buddy live in Charlotte, but has pocketed $67,032 with two victories at the Charlotte Motor Speedway.

"Cotton's the boss in the garage and always gives me a good ride," said Baker. "Like he said, without a good crew a driver is skunked."

Owens was a great driver himself a few years ago. In 1950, he won an incredible 54 events, 24 in a row. That's all in the past. Cotton, who turned 46 Thursday, knows his place is in the pits or in the garages around the NASCAR circuit.

Owens' garage in Spartanburg is stocked with $50,000 worth of tools to mold race cars, and he carries $8,000 worth to the nation's speedways.

Owens feels it takes $18,000 to build a race car. One smash into the speedway wall and the toll mounts.

"That happened to us Tuesday," frowned Owens. "Buddy hit the wall in practice and ruined the car. We sent down to my garage and got the backup Dodge and that's what we'll be running Sunday."

SS Benefits Tied to Cost of Living

By EDMOND LEBRETON
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Legislation to boost early and long-range increases in Social Security benefits—and taxes—has passed the House as a special Senate committee called for a major reform of the system to avoid sentencing retired persons to a twilight life of poverty.

The House-passed bill calls for a 5 per cent increase in benefits in 1971 with a provision for future increases geared to the cost of living.

The bill was sent to the Senate where considerable sentiment exists for further increases, a feeling bolstered by the annual report released today by the Special Senate Committee on Aged.

The committee said despite recent hikes in Social Security benefits about 7 million of the 10 million Americans age 65 or over live in or near poverty.

The report recommended a substantial boost in the minimum individual payment, now $64 a month, and further across-the-board increases.

The House-passed benefit increases mean that in 1971 pensioners would get a 5 per cent raise—from $196 to $205.80 for the average retired couple.

The wage base on which the Social Security tax is levied would increase from $7,800 to $9,000, meaning an increase in the maximum tax from $374.40 to $468, counting the increase already built into the law.

There are also better terms for widows, men retiring early and persons earning money after retirement.

The new cost of living provisions would be used first in 1973. Beginning the previous year, computations would be made on increases in consumer prices. If these amounted to as much as 3 per cent a year, benefits would be adjusted accordingly.

Corresponding computations would be made on wages, leading to increases in the taxable wage base, in units of $600.

The House was told the effect might be a $22,000 taxable base by 1990.

The House passed the bill for a 5 per cent 1971 benefit increase Thursday after surprising the sponsors by tacking on provision for future increases geared to the cost of living. An unusual combine of Republicans and liberal Democrats rolled up a 233 to 141 vote for the long-range increases—which also involve continuing increases in the payroll tax.

There is considerable sentiment in the Senate for further increases in benefits and also for tighter controls over the soaring cost of government-aided health programs like Medicare and Medicaid.

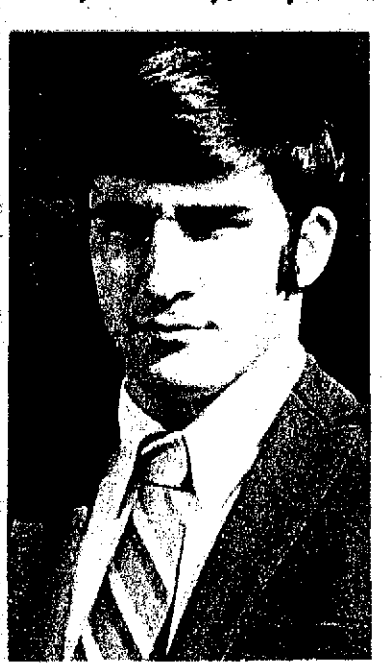

In this department the House voted standards on doctors' fees, encouragement for use of outpatient rather than institutional services, a beginning of controls over hospital charges and an option allowing elderly persons to enroll in comprehensive health care plans with government help.

The Senate committee said "use of general revenues, as a more equitable basis for financing part of the costs of an improved Social Security system, should receive serious congressional consideration."

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — The mystery girl photographed leaning over the body of a student shot down at Kent State University has been found by juvenile authorities and identified as a 15-year-old runaway from Opa Locka, Fla.

Juvenile officials said she is Mary Ann Vecchio, whose parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank P. Vecchio, recognized her in a widely published Associated Press photograph.

Miss Vecchio talked with her mother and father by telephone Thursday night and told them: "I want to go home."

Her parents said they would come to Indianapolis and accompany her to Florida.

Miss Vecchio said that after running from Florida she hitchhiked and begged money and food. In Kent, Ohio, she said, she heard there was going to be an antiwar protest and went to the university campus.

"We were sitting in front of a building chanting when the guardsmen moved on us with gas," Miss Vecchio said. "We ran around the building, then down to an open field, or maybe it was a parking lot."

When the guardsmen began shooting, she said, "I rolled down the hill and tried to hide behind a newspaper stand. That's when I saw the man go down. I ran over to him."

Three other students, two of them coeds, also were killed.

The Department of Health, Education and Welfare approved the plans of 23 of the 39 Arkansas school districts last week but Texarkana was not one of them. The Justice Department, however, has not yet filed a suit.

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market fell to another seven-year low Thursday for the second straight day. Trading was heavy.

The Dow Jones average of 30 industrial stocks dropped 11.30 to 605.25. It was the average's lowest level since March 1, 1963, when it closed at 659.72.

The Dow had lost 26 points in the previous two sessions, about 100 points over the past month, and some 300 points since December 1968.

Volume Thursday on the Big Board was 16.71 million, up from the 13.02 million shares traded Wednesday. Declines led advances by a 5-1 margin.

The New York Stock Exchange index of some 1,200 common stocks fell 0.81 to 39.46.

The American Stock Exchange index dropped 0.36 to 20.17, its lowest level since July 3, 1967, when it was 20.09. Volume on the American Exchange was 5.71 million, highest this year.

Analysts and investors were still reacting to gloomy domestic and international news. They cited the Labor Department's report Wednesday of a rise in the rate of inflation, the President's announcement Tuesday of a budget deficit, and developments in Southeast Asia.

New York Stock Exchange Chairman Bernard Lasker met with President Nixon at the White House to talk about the economy and the stock market.

White House press secretary Ronald L. Ziegler said Nixon expressed confidence the nation's economy will "turn up in the second half of the year." Ziegler gave no details of Lasker's views or comments.

$500,000 for Private School

BLYTHEVILLE, Ark. (AP) — Hays T. Sullivan of Burdette said Thursday that construction on a $500,000 private school is to begin next month and that the facility should be ready for use this September.

The 600-student school, grade 1-12, is being financed by Mississippi County businessmen. Sullivan said the Delta Academy would be built at Burdette on a 30-acre site donated by the Sullivan family.

Sullivan said more than 300 families indicated interest in the school. Tuition has been set at $500 a student per year, but Sullivan said the fee might be reduced for families having more than two children.
